What Makes Worksite International, Inc. Unique?

Since 1993, we have been helping business and industry of all sizes to realize the value of ergonomics in promoting employee health and wellness. Our outcome studies consistently show a 95% reduction in claim filing resulting in a return on investment of $10.00 for every dollar invested in an ergonomics process through claim avoidance, productivity improvement, employee satisfaction and engagement. Our programs are backed by research emphasizing continuous improvement, quality process design, lean and participatory ergonomics, and a focus on self-care and self-responsibility. We offer the expertise, experience, know-how and savvy to change the way people work from employee to employee, organization to organization.
